Do you ever listen to country music backwards?

Mike's Word Tally: 118

What are you even talking about?

Isabella's Word Tally: 13

FISH! I'm talking about fish!

Mike's Word Tally: 123

Because it reminds me of when my dog died like that movie that had that guy in it from another movie that was hilarious - remember it was about space and there was the woman with the blue hair.

Mike's Word Tally: 161

I laughed so hard, milk came out my nose.

Mike's Word Tally: 170

I don't like fish. I was fishing off the coast of Alaska when my dog jumped in the water and he was all wet and it reminded me of this song about a man whose dog dies and his truck stops working, and there was something about a train, even though my dog didn't die and I don't have a truck because I was on a boat, but it made me really sad, so once I listened to it backwards to see if the truck would start working and the dog didn't die, but it just sounded weird and I was still sad.

Mike's Word Tally: 110

Mmmm, what are you going to order?

Mike's Word Tally: 7

I don't know, the fish looks good.

Isabella's Word Tally: 7
That entire time, I spoke 25 words to his 175. That means for every 1 word I spoke, he spoke 7 words. He spoke 7 times as much as I did!

It was like, “Me: Talk.”

“Him: Talk, talk, talk, talk, talk, talk, talk, talk.”

SEVEN TIMES!

I asked the last guy I dated about fish, and he rambled on about trucks all night!

Have you ever dated someone who talks too much?

Hmm. My phone is ringing.

So, do you like fish?

Don’t like fish.

Can’t trust fish.

That entire time, I spoke 36 words to his 6. For every six words I spoke, he only spoke one word. I spoke six times as much as he did!

SIX TIMES!

6:1

It was like, “Me: Talk. talk. talk. talk. talk. talk.”

“Him: Talk.”

All I want is a guy that can talk with me at a one-to-one ratio!
One date talked about fish, had a truck, and listened to country music backwards.

Isabella's Word Tally: 37

My roommate talks about fish, has a truck, and listens to country music backwards!

Harvey's Word Tally: 37

I think I dated your roommate!

Isabella’s Word Count: 43

Have you noticed we talk about the same amount? A one-to-one ratio.

Isabella's Word Tally: 57

Indeed! We do talk about the same amount, a one-to-one ratio.
